Flying Parson and Companion
Anxious to Start; Others
Would Abandon Trip

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14—Lieut.

B. W. Maynard, the flying parson, first to complete the transcontinental flight in the air race started for Sacramento on the return journey to Roosevelt Field, N. Y., at 1:24 this afternoon. Maynard is the first flyer to start the second heat of the race. In contrast with the reported attitude of several flyers who have landed at Mineola and wish to abandon the contest, Lieut. Maynard and Cline, his companion, were keen to start the return.

They have full confidence in their plane and motor, and believe that prevailing eastward winds will aid them greatly. They expect to better the eastward record, made by Captain Lowell H. Smith of 24 hours, 30 minutes flying time, which bettered by 29 minutes and some seconds the westward record of Lieut. Maynard, according to unofficial figures.

Crowds at the Presidio were watching for other planes from New York expected to be added today to those already arrived.

Lieut. Col. Bowen, flying No. 23, arrived at the Presidio at 11:31. He was the eighth flyer to arrive from the east.

King Albert Doesn't Have Time For Airplane Flight

SAN JOSE, Cal., Oct. 14.—King Albert was unable to accept the invitation tendered him yesterday by Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard to fly over San Francisco this morning.

Replying to the "sky pilot" who flew here from New York in the transcontinental derby, Count D'Oultremont said today:

"The king regrets he is unable to accept Lieut. Maynard's invitation. The program of the day allows no time for the flight."

Maynard's invitation and the king's reply were sent through the United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Thirteen of the sixty-three aviators in the transcontinental air derby have completed the first half of the race, eight having landed at the western terminus, the Presidio, San Francisco, and five at the eastern end, Mineola, N. Y. Nineteen starters are out of the race, eight having crashed.

Yesterday's arrivals were:
At Mineola: Captain L. H. Smith, DH-4; Lieut. M. E. Queens, DH-4; Lieut. R. Worthington, SE-5.

Comprehensive Industrial Code
for Settling Labor Disputes
Is Being Prepared By Board

By RALPH F. COUCH
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—A comprehensive industrial code to cover arbitration proceedings and all disputes between employers and employees was being prepared today for submission to the national industrial conference.

With the steel strike and the New York Harbor strike in full swing and a big coal strike threatened, this code was considered one of the most vital measures for bringing about industrial peace. The conference delegates met today for the first time since last Friday.

Leading members of the group of delegates representing the public are preparing the code working through the central committee of fifteen.

The committee includes five representatives from each major group in the conference, the public, labor and capital or employers.

The code is being built upon the basis of a statement of general principles for industrial peace submitted by the employers' group and on another set of principles offered by the labor group. The basis of the arbitration plan included in the code is that submitted to the conference by Secretary of Labor Wilson.

The secretary's plan provides for the organization of separate mediation boards for each of the big basic industries, such as the railroads, metal trades, building trades, shoe manufacturing, clothing manufacturing and so on. Another board would be organized to mediate disputes, strikes and lockouts in miscellaneous trades for which no special board was created. When a board failed to effect a settlement, the case would be referred to the national industrial conference.

ORDERED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The industrial conference was thrown into confusion today and compelled to adjourn again shortly after convening this afternoon by a proposal from Chairman Chadbourne of the central committee of fifteen that six members of the conference be delegated to act as an arbitration board not only for the steel strike, but for all big industrial disputes now under way in America.

Chadbourne apparently offered the proposal on his own behalf and that of a few others with whom he had conferred since later the public group of which he was a member was compelled to adjourn in order to consider it.

Chadbourne brought the proposal forward following an unsuccessful effort of opponents of the resolution to mediate the steel strike to have that proposal declared out of order on the grounds that it was not coherent with the purpose for which President Wilson called the conference.

Chadbourne said afterwards that part of his resolution was offered "extemporaneously." The plan caught the labor group unprepared and President Gompers of the American Federation of Labor said he would refrain from discussing it on the floor.

"It changes the whole purpose of the resolution," Gompers said, "since the latter was intended to deal with a particular situation."

With matters in this situation the public group asked immediate adjournment that they might consider Chadbourne's proposal.

HUNT BODY OF WIFE;
HUSBAND BEING HELD

SEATTLE, Oct. 14.—While policemen and deputy sheriffs dragged Lake Washington this morning for the body of Mrs. Bertha Elinor Miller, wife of Walter P. Miller, former deputy sheriff and official photographer, for the explorer, Dr. Frederick Cook, on the Mt. McKinley expedition in 1906, the husband is held a prisoner at the county jail.

Mrs. Miller was drowned Monday afternoon while she and her husband were crossing the lake to a sanitarium to prove or disprove Miller's accusation that his wife was a drug addict. She was a former wife of Mayor George Baker of Portland.

Rail Director Hines Says Demands Spell Certain Industrial Disaster

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Steps to avert the threatened bituminous coal miners' strike set for November 1, were taken here today. Several suggested courses were before the senate interstate commerce committee for consideration.

In spite of President Wilson's illness it was believed at the capitol that he would be asked to outline a government policy to be adhered to with regard to the threatened strike.

President Lewis of the miners, it was forecast, will be summoned to Washington within a few days and the gravity of the situation put before him.

Senators explained the unions have an agreement to work under the present scale until next April, or until the war is officially ended. The issue now is whether they will stand by that contract or declare it is invalid by reason of the ending of the war. In case the miners contend the war is over and their contract void, administration officials plan to have Attorney General Palmer rule on the question.

Coal operative representatives here contend a presidential proclamation will be necessary to officially end the war.

Means Industrial Disaster

Director General of Railroads Hines has conferred with members of the senate interstate commerce committee, who are seeking to avert what they declare will be certain industrial disaster.

Railroads would be forced to stop running within ten days after the strike started, it was learned, after Hines conferred with the senators. According to data laid before the committee by coal men there is only a ten days' supply of fuel on hand for the railroads. If the miners obtain their demands for a wage increase, a six-hour day and a five-day week, the cost of coal will jump $2.50 a ton to the industrial consumers, the committee was informed.

Richardson declared, "but not in the custody of any officer."

Allies Plan Blockade of Soviet Russia
Germany Invited To Assist In Movement

By CARL D. GROAT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

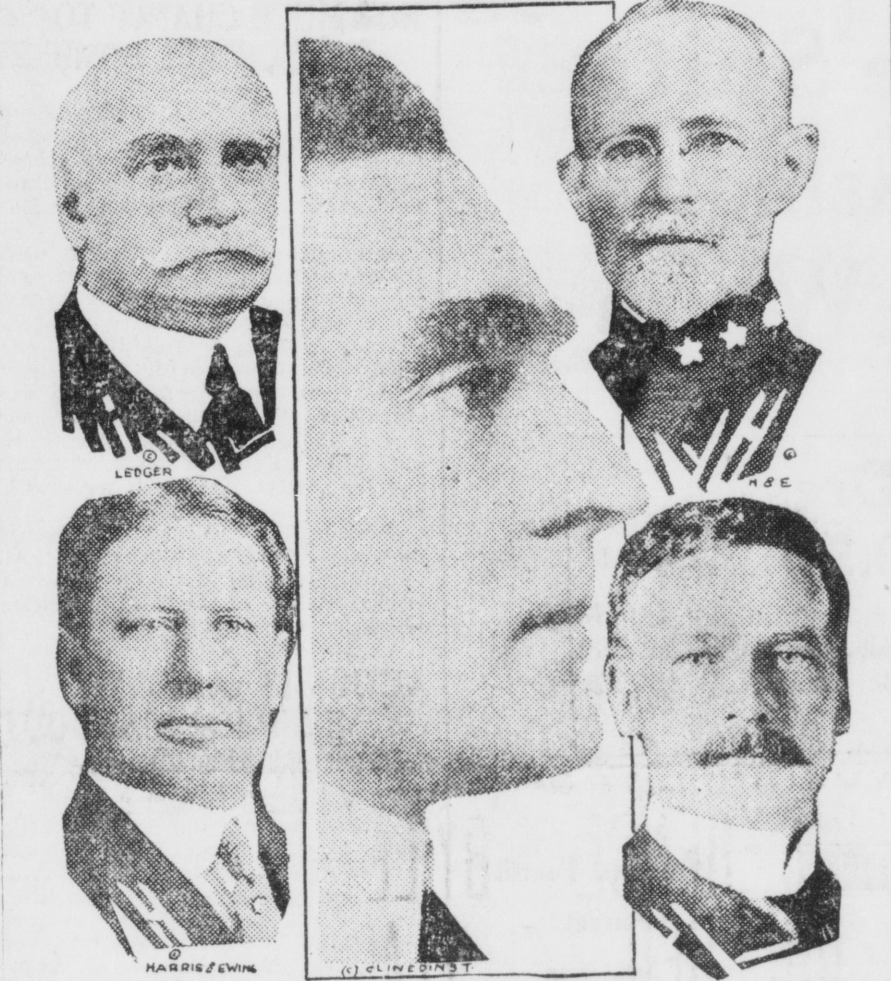

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—The allies have proposed an international blockade against soviet Russia. The suggestion was made to Germany in a note which also was addressed to Austria and neutral countries.

The note's receipt here followed the allies' most recent note to Germany defining their attitude toward the Baltic situation and the presence of von der Goltz's troops. The communication proposing the blockade on bolshevik Russia asked what measures Germany was prepared to take in assisting the movement.

At first, it was stated officially here, Germany was willing to co-operate, but was incapable of extensive measures.

The feeling later, however, as expressed by responsible authorities, was that Germany ought to decline as a matter of principle. It was stated that Germany likely would reply to the allies that she could not be a party to an action which would result in a starvation blockade such as she herself had suffered. Germany also is expected to point out that the non-bolshevik elements would suffer as much under the blockade as the bolsheviks.

Five Doctors Looking After President During Sickness

Two Navy Physicians and Three Specialists In Consultation Daily

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—The eyes of the United States and other countries of the world as well are directed at Washington, where President Wilson is ill, and rumors as to his condition are being sent broadcast. Doctors who are treating the President have decided to pay no attention to these rumors and will not answer them.

One rumor that was brought before the public is that President Wilson is suffering from brain lesion. This report was made by Senator Moses and caused the doctors to reach their decision.

The physicians are headed by Dr. Cary T. Grayson, rear admiral of the U. S. Navy, who is the President's physician and constant companion on his travels. Others with whom Dr. Grayson consulted are Dr. E. R. Stitt, also rear admiral of the navy, and chairman of the navy medical examining board; Dr. Francis S. Dercum, specialist in nervous diseases; Dr. Sterling Ruffin, who is famed as a diagnostician, and Dr. George E. DeSchweinitz, of the University of Pennsylvania. The latter is a specialist in ophthalmology, and has been the President's oculist for many years.

WOMAN, SAYS
GARDENER

By DON CHAMBERLAIN
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., Oct. 13.—Gardener Albert Gould of the W. H. Bliss estate here where King Albert stopped, votes the Queen a regular woman.

Gould Monday spent two hours in the Queen's company, showing and explaining trees, shrubs, plants and flowers.

So interested was the Queen that she invited Gould to sit beside her in her automobile while she toured the huge private gardens here. As a result, the Queen instructed Gould to prepare plans for the building of an open-air theater garden in Brussels.

The gardener declares the Queen "some gardener herself" and that "she is a most democratic woman and treated me as though I might have been a friend."

"The Queen showed keen interest in climbers and prickly pears and wants to be able to grow the fruit in Belgium," Gould said. "She told me her favorite flowers are jasmine, heliotrope and roses. She is a very bright and keen horticulturist."

The Queen spent an hour before dinner last night in the garden alone studying flowers. Before leaving she gave Gould a silver cigarette case, although he doesn't smoke.

There was a big send-off here tonight when the royal special departed for San Francisco. Ten thousand persons were at the station, auto horns honking and the crowds cheering and singing.

The following is the official program for Wednesday's and Thursday's tour of the Yosemite Valley:

Wednesday—Arrive Merced 5:12 a. m.; depart 5:35 a. m. Arrive El Portal 9 a. m. and motor to Sentinel hotel for lunch. Leave by motor and horseback for Glacier Point hotel, where the party will dine and spend the night.

Thursday—In the morning the party will visit Mariposa Grove, where they will have luncheon in the open. Return to El Portal at 5:30 p. m. Arrive Merced 9:40 p. m., reaching Los Angeles Friday at 9 a. m., where the King and party will remain for three and a half hours.

GETS STRONGER DAILY,
WHITE HOUSE REPORTS

Brain Declared to Be Clear;
Not Incapacitated, Says
Sen. Hitchcock

By HUGH BAILLIE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Investigation by the United Press in an effort to ascertain just how ill President Wilson is, and whether the many rumors with regard to his condition have any foundation in fact, today showed the following results:

1—Officials in close touch with persons who frequently see the president, declare they believe he will be back at his desk transacting executive business within a month or six weeks.

2—No matter what may have caused his illness, he is getting well now and has been showing steady improvement for the last week, according to the best information at the White House.

3—Senators who are in good standing at the White House and who are presumed to have access to information there, say he is at the present time handling some executive matters.

4—Reports that he never will completely recover and suggestions that he should step aside and let the vice president take his place are condemned in administration quarters as political torpedoes designed to shake the faith of his supporters in him and in the League of Nations.

On Road to Recovery

5—Although there has been no official denial of the reports that he suffered a lesion of the brain, a blood clot or apoplexy, the impression given is that what caused his illness is not the main consideration now; that he is on the road to recovery and that this is the most important fact in the case.

6—The belief that the President will be back at work within six weeks is not generally shared. One senator who is supposed to be in close touch with the White House thought he would be laid up seven months.

Believing that the official statements on Mr. Wilson's condition have not been sufficiently informative, some senators friendly to the President are privately discussing the advisability of recommending that a full statement be issued to reassure the country.

Information as to the President's actual condition, if it is to be credited, naturally must originate with persons who have seen him recently. Persons who have seen him recently are his four doctors, Cary T. Grayson, Sterling Ruffin, F. X. Dercum and E. R. Stitt, Mrs. Wilson, Margaret Wilson and the trained nurses. Therefore, it will be seen that the field for investigation of original sources is limited. These are the only ones who really know at first hand what the President's condition is at present.

Brain Is Clear

With regard to his mental state, one who has talked with him within the last few days said: "His brain is as clear as yours."

CO. L MEN WILL 'BE THERE' ON THURSDAY EVE

Few Will Be Missing From Honor Banquet For Capt. Holderman at James

Many old-time cronies will be gathered together again when the former Company L men meet at James' confectory Thursday evening at 7:00 o'clock for a banquet in honor of Captain Nelson M. Holderman, former commander of the company, and who was a favorite with every one.

This was the report today of Chas. D. Swanner, former Co. L lieutenant, who is handling the details of the affair. Swanner is having a good response to his invitation that all former Co. L men be present at the Thursday evening banquet, with more names being added to the list every day. His telephone numbers are: Office, 1300; residence, 1227-J, and those who have not yet signified their intention of attending should make reservations by calling Swanner at once.

A few members of the old company will never return and others are still in the service or far away, but it looks like every one who can, will answer "here" when the fighters sit down to their first after-the-war reunion.

All are invited to attend the dance Saturday night, Oct. 18th, at Wintersburg hall. Good music.

NOT MUCH CHANCE TO CATCH ALL BOMBERS

GARY, Ind., Oct. 14.—Army officers here today said there was small chance of rounding up the entire band of bombers suspected of having made Gary their headquarters in their May Day and June campaigns.

Suspected reds now in custody were gruffed further in an effort to uncover the entire plot. Officers believe possibly a powder factory here now dismantled, may have unwittingly supplied the plotters with their explosives. Army men refuse to go further than stating they believe some of the plotters are under arrest. Details of the attempted reign of terror and the motive back of it were withheld.

Colonel Mapes refused to discuss the arrests which have been made. All the men arrested since the army assumed control of the local situation are held incommunicado.

ACTION IS TAKEN TO KEEP RADICALS OUT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—To keep thousands of radicals and undesirable aliens out of the country the House Foreign Affairs committee today favorably reported a resolution extending for one year after the ratification of peace the war-time passport restrictions. The action was taken at the request of Secretary of State Lansing, who presented consular reports to the committee, showing that foreign agitators and others already have congregated at foreign ports to flock into the United States as soon as the war-time passport restrictions are lifted by the proclamation of peace. Congressional plans are to frame a permanent restrictive program before the end of the extended time.

seen him, but who is very close to persons that have said:

"He is not incapacitated in the slightest respect."

Secretary Tamm, whose manner was strikingly depressed at first, seemed to be quite his old self today and in talking to friends gave an impression of optimism. The President's ailment, according to Grayson, is nervous exhaustion. The principal danger—and this danger is said still to exist—is that the nervous exhaustion might lead to nervous prostration or something even more serious. The remedy is rest. Physicians say that in cases of nervous exhaustion a deep disappointment, a shock or mental over-exertion may cause a relapse.

While the President must remain in bed for an extended period, this does not necessarily mean he cannot consider executive business even though in bed, it was pointed out.

President Wilson, it was learned, is aware of the suggestions that have been made that he step aside in favor of the vice president and resents them. In spite of this, some senators friendly to him have said privately they thought it would be a good move for Mr. Wilson himself, if he faces a long period of illness to ask Marshall to act for him temporarily.

MYSTERY CAR OF OVERLAND IN CITY TODAY

Lines of New Product of Factory Are Kept a Secret

The Overland Mystery Car was in Santa Ana this afternoon, on its tour of Southern California. It was here for a few hours only, but in that time it was inspected by a large number of Santa Ana people. It is the new product of the Overland factory, of four cylinder type.

Its lines were concealed by a covering and no one in Southern California, except the agents, have been permitted to glimpse the lines of the new model which the producers claim is going to set a new mark in motor dom.

It is a 1920 model and has many refinements and features that will at once make it an attractive machine for those wanting a light car. One of the features which it is permissible to mention, in view of the fact that George Ash of the local Overland agency, told it is removable cushions. The cushions can be removed from the backs and sides of the seats. With this possible the car can be used for delivery work without marring the upholstery, or on a camping trip the cushions can be taken out and utilized as a bed.

One week from today a model of the machine will be on exhibition at the local agency. It will not be a mystery car, for it will be minus the decorations which today cover the lines of the new model. The machine will be on the floor for some time, where it may be inspected by those wishing to give it the "once over."

The machine here today was in charge of Tom Nicklin, who returned with it to Los Angeles late in the afternoon.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—"The United States government is in grave danger from the movement of international revolutionists and it may fall unless vigorous measures of defense are taken now," Senator Poindexter of Washington declared in an address to the senate today.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Wilson's cabinet today discussed the threatened strike of coal miners, the sugar shortage and the general labor situation. It was decided that Secretary Wilson of the Department of Labor should handle any federal action looking toward a prevention of the coal miners' strike. An announcement on the subject of the government policy toward the strike is expected. The sugar shortage was referred to Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture.

Industrial Code Is Being Prepared For Round Table Conference

ment, the strike or lockout would be referred to an umpire, under the Wilson plan, or to a general council of all boards. As a last resort the President would name arbitrators.

The code now being planned would make arbitration compulsory before a strike or lockout could go into effect. The compulsion clause, however, would not be extended to the award because of the well defined reluctance of labor to give up the right to strike.

Conference delegates backing the code contend that the force of public opinion would be strong enough to compel either side to comply with the award.

The code is regarded as a compromise between the demands of the employers and of labor. Judge Gary, chairman of the United States Steel Corporation, is one employer who is understood not to have been convinced the plan is workable.

No Recommendation Made

The central committee of the industrial conference today reported to the full conference without recommendation the resolution calling for the mediation of the steel strike.

The resolution was offered by the labor group.

Chairman Chadbourne of the central committee, in making the report, announced that the resolution had been amended in committee to provide that the membership of the proposed mediation committee be composed of other members of the present conference or non-members.

He said that a majority of two groups in the committee had voted against recommending the adoption of the resolution. A majority of all the members of the committee, however, had voted to report the resolution without recommendation.

The conference today adopted a resolution expressing sympathy with President Wilson in his illness. This was the first measure on which the conference voted by groups, chairmen of the three groups voting "aye." The resolution was introduced by the employers' group.

arrival marks the opening of his official campaign to obtain American credit for Belgium. It is understood that he will make an appeal for Belgium this afternoon.

At the city hall, where the king, queen and party received the freedom of the city before going to their hotel, King Albert responded briefly to the mayor's message of welcome. The king referred to the way San Francisco had been rebuilt after the 1906 fire, and declared that Belgium could receive an inspiration from San Francisco.

The king received an enthusiastic reception. Later he addressed a luncheon, expressing great pleasure at being in California, and extending thanks for California's part in Belgium's relief.

"I salute with profound gratitude the name of Herbert Hoover," he declared. The king also referred to the fact that the 363rd Infantry which accompanied him on his triumphant entry into Brussels at the close of the war was a Californian organization.

STRIKE SETTLEMENT BY RIGGERS CLOSER

STRIKE SETTLEMENT ... SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14.—Settlement of the strike of riggers and stevedores of the San Francisco bay district was closer today. Control had been taken from the strike committee and placed in the hands of the officers of the union.

This action was taken following repeated statements by the Water Front Employers' Union that they refused to hold conferences with the Longshoremen's Union "as now constituted."

LONGSHOREMEN STRIKE VOTE IS BEING TAKEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Voting was in progress today in the 54 local unions here affiliated with the International Longshoremen's Union on the question of ending or continuing the strike of 11,000 dock workers which has paralyzed shipping in the port of New York for six days.

Meanwhile, the strike threatened more and more to throw the city into a famine of both food and fuel.

You can learn a lot from ADVERTISING

The main thing an advertiser wants to do is to tell you plainly just how and why his goods are worthy of your consideration. You can learn a great deal from that alone, because many things you see advertised are the things you buy and use in your regular daily life. By reading the advertisements, you can learn the names and read descriptions of the things that are best and most satisfactory.

But advertising teaches even more than that. All advertisers try to make their advertisements themselves valuable to you.

A good many people have learned a whole lot about good music, good books, good food, good clothes, ways to keep healthy, ways to live comfortably, ways to keep the house and grounds looking well—they have learned all these things and many other things just by reading advertisements.

Read the advertisements right along, and you will learn a great deal that will be helpful and valuable to you as you go through life.

RICE FIELD SEEN BY MINTER FOR FIRST TIME

Journeys to Big Ranch of Otis Birch at Sacramento District

Geo. W. Minter, a pioneer of California, had his first glimpse of a rice field last week and he saw it in California, in the Sacramento valley. Mr. Minter and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Birch on a two weeks' auto tour to the northern part of the state, returning home last evening.

They motored up the coast by easy stages, going to Santa Barbara, Paso Robles and Del Monte and then on to Sacramento, near which place Birch has a large ranch.

Birch has a field of about 2000 acres of rice this year and expects next season to have about 10,000 acres. He has a 20,000-acre ranch there, and preparations are now being made for enlarging the planting of rice to the acreage indicated for next year.

The ground is being prepared for proper drainage, for rice is grown in water, and an outlet must be provided for the water when it is drained from the ground.

"A field of growing rice resembles very much growing wheat and oats," said Minter today. "Rice is doing fine in the Sacramento valley and promises to become a big industry in this state."

The party arrived in Oakland on the first day of the street car strikes and saw many cars on the streets with windows shattered as the result of attacks by the strikers and sympathizers.

OH! MY BACK!

The Expression of Many a Kidney Sufferer in Santa Ana

A stubborn backache is cause to suspect kidney trouble. When the kidneys are inflamed and swollen, stooping brings a sharp twinge in the small of the back, that almost takes the breath away. Doan's Kidney Pills relieve sluggish kidneys—relieve aching backs. Here's Santa Ana proof:

W. S. Lindsey, retired farmer, 1114 E. Fourth St., Santa Ana, says: "Some time ago my back gave out on me. Mornings I could hardly get out of bed, as every time I tried to move a sharp pain caught me in the small of my back. My kidneys acted too frequently and the secretions were unnatural. I had such bad dizzy spells that at times I came near falling over. Doan's Kidney Pills relieved the backache and I felt better in every way."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Lindsey had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

Opponents sneer at Wilson's "great vision." Every forward step of mankind has first been a vision by some dreamer who had no reverence for precedent.

AUTO TRUCKING PUT SUGAR USE ON WAR BASIS, SAYS SMART

Federal Bureau of Roads Is Seeking the Best Type of Highway

To determine the destructive effect of heavily loaded auto trucks on highways and streets, and to meet the demand for data on the design of road surfaces and foundations to withstand such heavy traffic, a series of experiments is being conducted by the Bureau of Public Roads, United States Department of Agriculture, to determine the impact of auto trucks on roads.

The most striking single development in the highway field in 1918 was the tremendous increase in motor truck traffic. Five years ago heavy motor trucks were few in number and limited practically entirely to the paved streets of the larger cities. These vehicles now comprise probably 4 to 5 per cent of the grand total of all motor vehicles and are to be found wherever traffic conditions permit profitable use. But very few roads were designed to carry any large volume of this class of traffic. Consequently, the cost of adequate maintenance was increased greatly during the year. In many places the damage due to the incessant pounding of these fast and heavy vehicles was so great as to require complete reconstruction.

BURGLARS AT DALLAS STEAL SHOES, BREAD

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 14.—High cost of living has changed the methods of thieves and burglars here. Instead of stealing jewelry and silverware, burglars are stealing shoes, hams, eggs and bread. During the past week fifty persons whose houses have been burglarized have reported the loss of shoes and foodstuffs, but found their valuables intact.

"With shoes selling at from $12 to $29 and a ham worth $5, it is no wonder that thieves prefer these to a piece of silverware," say the police. "Then the burglar can sell the shoes without suspicion. He gets $5 per pair for them, and if he happens to grab eight or ten pairs while folks are at the movies he has done a good day's work. You can't identify shoes after a second-hand dealer has them five minutes. Folks will have to put their extra shoes and their food in the safety vaults of the bank if they expect to keep them these days."

QUAIL SEASON TO OPEN ON MORNING OF OCT. 16

The quail season for this district is to open on the morning of October 16. Last year the season opened on October 15. Local hunters say that those who have the best chances of bringing back limits are those who journey to hunting grounds outside the county. Quail have been getting scarcer each year in this county.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which all should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color, 10c and 25c.—Adv.

Shortage of the Sweet Stuff Results In Dealers Being Rationed

Use of sugar on an economical basis as during the war was advocated today by J. S. Smart, president of the Smart & Final Company, wholesale grocers of this city, who stated that as a result of a sugar shortage which has been felt in Southern California for several weeks, the company has been compelled to sell to dealers on a basis allowing them to furnish two pounds of sugar per week per family of four or five persons.

No relief from the present shortage of sugar is looked for by Smart, who states, however, that no hardships will be worked upon families provided they co-operate and use sugar as sparingly as they did during the war.

"Two pounds of sugar per person each month is ample," said Smart today. "But the trouble is that many persons are unwilling to co-operate, which works a hardship on those who are trying their best to help out by adhering strictly to the ration."

Smart is emphatic in declaring that hoarding ought to be condemned. It is possible, according to Smart, that there will be a slight increase in available sugar stocks about the first of the year, when the Cuban and Hawaiian supplies come into the market. However, Smart states that more than 25 per cent of the Cuban sugar crop has already been sold to foreign countries.

The world sugar shortage is due directly to the fact that France, Russia and Germany have produced no sugar during the past four years because of the war.

Orange and other Southern California counties are now entirely dependent upon the output of sugar factories in this section for sugar, as no cane sugar is being shipped from the East. In fact, Smart states, Southern California factories have been compelled to make shipments to Colorado and other middle western states, where the sugar famine is very acute.

PIONEER CITIZEN OF YORBA BURIED TODAY

YORBA, Oct. 14.—Mr. Joseph Sanchez, well known blacksmith and respected citizen of Yorba, passed away at his home Sunday, following an illness of many weeks. He was aged 64 years and had been a resident of Orange county 34 years. Previous to moving to Yorba he was a resident of Anaheim, and will be remembered there by the older settlers.

He was a native of California, having been born in Los Angeles county. Besides a widow, he is survived by several children.

Funeral services were held from the Yorba church this morning at 10 o'clock.

This Store's Service

A store is no store at all that only barter its merchandise for money, conducting its business in a drab, impersonal way. That sort of store has passed into the limbo of forgotten things. The storekeeping of today comprehends service, and service as we variously define it is—

Working for another—
An office of devotion—
Assistance, courtesy and kindness to others.

Merchandising—that is, trading in goods—is of secondary importance, as there can be little exchange of commodities where the essentials of service are wanting. Storekeepers of today have so deeply implanted service as a part of selling that the reactionary tradesman who refuses it soon lands on the commercial junk heap of bankruptcy.

This store progresses because it renders good service and sells good goods only.

THE VERY LATEST FASHION CREATIONS FOR SMALL PEOPLE'S WEAR

NEW YORK—Never have fashions for little people been so attractive as they are this season. The ruffled one above would make a yellow headed weaver look like a rose. Another party frock for a dark haired miss is of white dimity flowered in a Dresden pattern of pale blue and yellow. For an older child is the kindergarten dress of combined plain and plaid material. The Peterkin suit for a small boy has blue linen trousers and a white blouse embroidered in blue. The fifth creation for a three-year-old is made of plain colored dimity, with shoulder ruffles, shirred pockets and sash of white dimity.

BREAKFAST TABLE TALK

A daily paper which has a wide circulation runs a column under the heading: "Breakfast Table Talk." In a recent edition the different topics handled in the column were as follows:

"Pleading Guilty to a Charge of Disorderly Conduct."

"Man Accused of Assault and Battery on a Woman is Discharged."

"Builder Granted Permit to Re-model Store."

"Eighteen Hundred a Day Die of Cholera in Vladivostok."

Of course, it is desirable to start the day by a little cheerful conversation at the breakfast table, and probably any subject dealing with affairs in the world outside would be better than an acrid quarrel over home finances or a little mean gossip about the neighbors. But assault, disorderly conduct and cholera seem to leave a little something to be desired in the way of breakfast table chat.

There is everything in starting the day right, and it is easy for an observing person to determine with a fair degree of accuracy which of his fellow-passengers on the car for downtown left home smiling and with mind set forward courageously to the problems of the day.

"Breakfast Table Talk" is a good thing if it deals with any of the thousand cheerful, stimulating, interesting things upon which this old world is bent. But since the day will be largely as is the breakfast table, surely any editor or any reader might find more promising subjects for discussion at the morning meal than the ones listed above.

THE CHANNEL TUNNEL

The tunnel under the British Channel is assured. All opposition to it, either in France or England, has disappeared, though objections died hard in England, because her wave-washed shores were considered her best protection. Now such a connecting link between the two countries is considered a desirable step toward facilitating traffic.

The channel passage is notoriously rough, and passenger traffic through the tunnel will be the greatest factor in the tunnel's success. Perishable freight and luxuries requiring rapid transportation also can be shipped by the tunnel route better than in any other way except perhaps by airplane, and that mode of travel will not entirely supersede rail travel for many a day.

The subject was actively broached in 1882, and a protest signed by 1000 leading Englishmen begged that governmental sanction should not be given to this revolutionary scheme for opening the shores of England to the foe. Interesting among the names which signed that petition are those of Arthur Balfour, Walter Long, Huxley, Herbert Spencer, Tennyson and Robert Browning.

Doubtless the dead great men in this list must look with angelic surprise on their insular timidity, as they view the earth plan in its entirety from where they sit. Those of the list who are living, like sensible men, have advanced with the times, and realize that it is bonds to hold the world together that are needed, since nearly all the trouble since time began has come cherishing barriers to keep the nations apart.

WRECKING PRODUCTION

A correspondent who has spent much time in Russia, and who went into White Russia with the Poles a month ago to study the result of Bolshevik rule, gives a striking report of its fruits. The gist of it might be epitomized as follows:

The more Bolshevikism succeeds, the more it fails. That is to say, the more completely the system is installed, the more disastrous are the effects. The movement has survived, he says, only because it was ringed about by armed foes.

"If they had no outside enemies, if all armed struggle against them suddenly ceased, they would be exposed in all their scandalous nakedness. They would be compelled to make good, and they could not do it. However worthy communism may be as a doctrine, it has not succeeded in Russia."

"Wherever I have been recently in White Russia, Lithuania and the Ukraine, I found the Bolsheviks left behind them industrial ruin."

It was not chaos. That popular conception of Bolshevism in other lands seems wrong. It was not anarchy, though the Red leaders had ridden into power on a wave of anarchy. "Bolshevism," explains the correspondent, "is the exact opposite, a highly bureaucratic, strictly policed state of affairs, the imposing of a doctrine demanding implicit obedience to the word of Moscow, implicit belief in 'our teachings.'"

The factories were not wrecked or cluttered with dirt and debris. They were simply futile, inefficient, unprofitable. The Bolsheviks have not been able to operate them efficiently. They cannot produce. They have slowed the industrial system down so that it cannot make money for anybody, cannot even provide a living for the workmen, and cannot turn out half the industrial output needed to supply the wants of the community.

This evil, according to every open-minded inquirer who has studied Bolshevism on the spot, seems inseparable from the system. It is, as someone has said, "wrecked on the rock of production," which is the one big, all-important thing in industry. Just when Russia needs most production, it gets least.

The rest of the world is rapidly coming to understand this fact, and that is why Bolshevism had made so little headway elsewhere.

RATIFY SOON

If there was ever any real doubt that the peace treaty would be ratified by the United States Senate, that doubt has been dispelled by recent developments.

Amendments to kill the treaty or change its text are dead. The only question remaining is as to the comparative strength of those reservations. Whatever reservations are made will not affect the body of the treaty, and will presumably be of such a nature that the other signatory powers will accept them.

The acceleration of this business in the Senate is evidently the result of an insistent public demand that an end be brought to the long period of uncertainty and suspense. It is no longer profitable to inquire who is responsible for the delay. The popular view is that there has been needless postponement both at Paris and in Washington, and that the thing to do is to stop quarreling about it and wind up the affair. The Senate, too, is obviously growing weary of the long controversy, and will be glad to unload the burden and turn to other work.

The day of ratification will therefore be a day of general rejoicing.

Let Us Have Peace

Stockton Record

Let us have peace! Close to a year has passed since the armistice was signed—almost a year since the world went on its knees with glad thankfulness in the belief that the last of all wars was done.

No more strife, no more bloodshed, no more mothers weeping for their sons—the last war!

A League of Nations, we cried, a league of nations that shall make impossible international misunderstandings, that shall protect the weak, that shall restrain those greedy in their strength! A league of nations that shall be the first step in the realization of world-wide democracy!

So in our enthusiasm after the last shot was fired.

And what have we today? The League of Nations formulated. The Peace Treaty waiting to be ratified.

And pending ratification internal unrest and civil strife in every one of the countries that was at war.

Italy, who held the Hun from sweeping over Southern Europe and over Africa, is confronted with a dissolved parliament, its members challenging each other to duels after they had broken each other's noses with their fists.

And why? Because Italy wants Fiume, believes she is entitled to Fiume, while apparently Fiume doesn't want Italy. D'Annunzio, that amazing poet who knows how to wield a sword as effectively as a pen, has taken Fiume. And, while he holds the Adriatic city by sheer force of personality, Rome herself seethes with turmoil and goes back to martial law.

And again why? Why this internal upheaval in Italy? Because nations are like people. Because Italy, anxiously waiting for the surety that only the ratification of the peace treaty can bring, has let her nerves get the best of her. Because she needs help and understanding in the solving of her problems—such insurance as only the concerted strength of a League of Nations can give.

Who is withholding this surety from Italy? Who is responsible for such outbreaks as the fiasco resulting from the Fiume situation?

The world knows. Sign, gentlemen of the United States Senate—sign, that the world may have peace!

Training Boys

New York World

New York boys between the ages of 16 and 19 will get their first taste of compulsory training next week, when they are expected to report at national guard armories for the military and physical exercises required of them under the Slater law. The instruction will occupy an hour and a half each week and is obligatory for all boys of these ages, whether in school or out. It is in no sense intended to make soldiers of them but to teach them discipline and obedience while giving them the benefit of brief muscular exercise.

Unless the nature of the boys has changed, the course ought to give zest to the school term for pupils and provide an incentive for those who have left school for business.

It amounts to the addition to the school curriculum of a period of athletic training more like play than work

A Time of Opportunity

Circus poster adjectives are not needed these days to impart to the average man the information that there is a marked scarcity of homes in nearly all of the cities of California. People who read the newspapers, who are fairly observing, and who do just a little bit of thinking, know that there never was a time in their knowledge of California when it was so difficult to get a room to sleep in or a house or an apartment to live in as it is at the present time.

Whatever might be thought by those lacking in vision of the glowing pictures of California's destined future that have been painted in the past, none can doubt that there are more people in California today than can be comfortably housed with the present accommodations, and if the newcomers who are flocking into every city in the state every day in the week are to be taken care of, more homes, hotels, apartments and lodging houses must be built without delay.

If there is anything of the future to which one may look with any degree of certainty it is that California is entering upon an era of prosperity heretofore unknown. Go where you may throughout the East and all you hear, once it is known you are from California, is that your host hopes some day to live in this state, to enjoy its sunshine, its matchless scenery, its wonderful roads, its unsurpassed seashore, its mountains, and the opportunity afforded here to play every day in the year.

The business man looks forward to California for he knows its ever growing population means prosperity for him while its climate and numerous gifts from nature offer him more of promise in the way of pleasure and happiness than any other spot he has ever known. The manufacturer is coming to California at a rate that will prove a great surprise to those not in touch with the progress being made in this state along that line for cheap power, fuel and transportation tell him a story of riches in a land that appeals to every human soul.

The time to prepare for these people is now and those who get busy now in home building will be doing a public service for the good of the country.

Building costs are high but promise to be no lower for several years to come. That is the judgment of the best authority in the country. Not of men with something to sell but of officials of the government seeking after the naked truth as to conditions and giving the people the benefit of their investigations. Lumber and other building materials will not lower appreciably in price for at least five years to come, say the best authorities, and many are confident that cheap lumber is a thing of the past and that building costs will not come down to any extent.

But aside from what construction costs may be five or ten years hence, the answer to the building problem is that hundreds of newcomers are arriving and that those homes will be rented or sold just as fast as they are ready for occupancy.

There are scores of men and women in Orange county who have been working for years for just such a tide of newcomers as has now started. The tide has turned and the vessels of the cities that build fast, remodel their interiors to accommodate as many of the newcomers as possible are the vessels that are going to be carried most happily along the channels of prosperity, growth in population and general development.

Out where the brooklet's fresh bubbling
Seems to hold you as if in a trance,
And your cares, one by one, hasten from you

And water your long parched soul
That's shrunk and dwarfed in the shadow,
Yet cries for some light on its goal.

Where Nature will answer your questions
In silent discourse, while she flings
A mantle of calm o'er your being

OBSERVATIONS

That intermittent thud in the direction of Washington is the senatorial impact on the peace pact.

A newspaper has been conducting a contest on the question, "Why do Women Have to Stand in Street Cars?" The answer's easy—Because there are only seats enough for the men.

There will always be more or less social unrest while the income tax of a few of us is greater than the income of the most of us.

and from which they are certain to gain in physique and in character. The gain to the community from having headstrong youth in the formative age subjected to disciplinary training is obvious. This new wrinkle in education remains, of course, to be tested. But on its face it is a promising experiment in citizenship making with not the slightest suggestion of militarism about it.

THE MAN BEHIND THE SMILE

I don't know how he is on creeds,
I never heard him say;
But he's got a smile that fits his face
And he wears it every day.
If things go wrong, he won't complain,
Just tries to see the joke;
He's always finding little ways
Of helping other folk.
He sees the good in everyone,
Their faults he never mentions;
He has a lot of confidence
In people's good intentions.
You soon forget what ails you
When you happen 'round this man.
He can cure a case of hypo
Quicker than the doctor can.
No matter if the sky is gray,
You get his point of view;
And the clouds begin to scatter
And the sun comes breaking through.
You'll know him if you meet him,
And you'll find it worth your while
To cultivate the friendship of
"The Man Behind the Smile."

A Family Reunion

One of the happiest events of the week-end was a one o'clock chicken dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Spencer of 166 East Santa Clara avenue, in honor of their son-in-law, Clement J. Murphy, lately returned from France, and their daughter, Miss Leta Spencer, who celebrated her sixteenth birthday.

Mr. Murphy sailed from Hoboken attached to the Sunset Division, September 15th, 1918, and left Brest on his return journey September 15th, 1919.

The entire year was spent at Brest, as he did not get into the firing line before the armistice was signed, and was placed in the disembarkation camp for many months after his regular company sailed for America.

Mr. Murphy was mustered out at the Presidio, San Francisco, October 1, and arrived in Santa Ana the next evening to join his wife, who recently returned from Pennsylvania. This is his first trip over the Rockies, but he says he will never go back over them to live; California and Santa Ana look good enough for him.

The greatest event, by far of his homecoming was making the acquaintance of his beautiful little even-months-old daughter, Isabel Edith, who was born while he was overseas. He says, "She's some baby." Miss Spencer was the recipient of a number of beautiful gifts, all suitable to start her "hope-chest."

After the bountiful dinner, of which two large home-made cakes, a chocolate for the soldier, and a white caramel for the birthday, were a feature, the entire party retired to the lawn, where a number of kodak pictures were snapped as mementoes of the affair. One interesting picture was the family group, as every member of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis' immediate family was present, the first time in five years.

Phonograph music and conversation reated diversion for the rest of the afternoon, and before the guests departed, Mrs. Spencer served light refreshments.

Covers were laid for fourteen, among the flags and roses, those present being Mr. and Mrs. Murphy and baby, Isabel; Miss Leta Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. M. Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Chester M. Scott and children, Marguerite and Alice Marie; Mrs. M. Jeanne Taylor, Miss Mabel Witterole, a chum of Miss Spencer, and the host and hostess, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer.

will carry interest to the many friends belonging to both the bride and groom. Miss Alethea Belle Iveson, of San Bernardino, became the bride of Fnos Frederick Kraschel, of Irvine, Sunday evening at 6 o'clock, the ceremony occurring at the home of her parents, at 134 East Fourth street, San Bernardino.

A company of about twenty-five relatives was present when Rev. J. E. Hall of the First Methodist church of Los Angeles, read the service, Miss Verna Weber playing the wedding music for her friend.

The bride, who has been an active participant in all the young people's societies in the church, will be a welcome addition to the associations here as well as to the wide circle of her husband's friends.

In a pretty floral setting the vows were exchanged, the bride wearing a dainty frock of white and carrying Cecile Brunner roses. After the ceremony wedding refreshments were served. Later the bride and groom left for Irvine, where they will make their home, the groom being an employee of the office and warehouse management of the big Irvine Ranch Company.

The little bride will go to her new home with the good wishes of all her friends. She is a member of the county library staff. She will be particularly missed among the young people of the First Methodist church, as she has long been a member of the Philathea class and Epworth League, having been a most capable secretary of the league three years, and a teacher in the Sunday school. She is also a member of the Y. W. C. A. and its clubs.

The wedding comes as a complete surprise to the majority of the bride's friends, the secret of her plans having been well kept.

Mrs. Iveson and other members of the family are planning to leave San Bernardino very soon to join Mr. Iveson at his ranch at Barstow.

Music Section

Every Ebell Club officer, chairman and subaltern has been marshaled in to order for the coming year and not the least enthusiastic is the music section of the Ebells, which held the first of its monthly meetings yesterday at the home of Mrs. M. Phillips.

The members enjoyed an exceptionally pleasant afternoon together and after a long summer of relaxation are anxious to see and hear what the winter has in store for them. The theme for the year will be "Americanization" and each month a program will be given devoted entirely to American composers and their music.

Following the reading of the minutes, at the opening of the meeting, roll call was answered by members giving current musical events, after which the following program with Mrs. Lucy Evans in charge, was given, California Composers being the subject for the day:

"I Love You California," sung by Mrs. H. M. Sammis, with the members joining in on the chorus; "The Pompadour's Fan" (Cadman); "Dreams" (Julia Pascal), Miss Leta Spencer Tompkins, who preceded her section with a short sketch; "Our Flag," Mrs. Jamison, and "Light" (Frederick Stevenson), Mrs. T. A. Winbizer; "Lullaby," Gertrude Rosa; "O Time Take Me Back" (Carrie Jacobs Bond); "God Smiled Upon the Desert," or "The Poppy Song" (Cadman); Mrs. Humphrey of Long Beach; "Birds at Dawn" (Fanny Dillon); "A Mysterious Story" (Homer Grung); Miss Tompkins; "The Moon Drops Low," "The Land of the Sky Blue Water" (Cannan), Mrs. Sammis; "At Dawning" (Cadman); "Her Market" (Thurlof Lorenz), Mrs. Humphrey.

It was decided to hold the meetings at the different homes and it is hoped that all members of the Ebells who are musically inclined will become members of the section.

Woman's Alliance
The Woman's Alliance of the Unitarian church will meet tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. Octavia Smith, 112 East Chestnut.

Hallowe'en Party
The eleventh birthday of Miss Maruerie Anderson was the occasion recently for a typical Hallowe'en party, given by her mother, Mrs. Joe Anderson, at their home on North Birch street.

Many of the young people came in appropriate garb, their costumes in keeping with the usual decorations of the season, and lending a "spooky" atmosphere to the occasion, the greatest appeal of an affair of this kind.

Real Hallowe'en games, such as bobbing for apples and pinning the all on the donkey kept the guests in a continuous round of excited merriment and at the conclusion of each game the lucky winner was awarded a suitable prize.

But the center of attraction was the fascinating booth in the living room, entirely covered with corn-stalks, with grinning and horrible-faced jack-o'-lanterns placed around it and where a disreputable, thrill-evoking witch taken her place for the day and with mumblings and gesticulations predicted strange things for the future.

The witch arrived on her broomstick, just before the guests, from her haunts in some far forest, although some one was overheard to say that she did look a lot like Miss Fern Smith.

Late in the afternoon the guests were invited to the dining room, where the orange and black colors, jack-o'-lanterns and cornstalks were again in prominence in the decoration of the room, the table and place cards by which they found their places to be immediately served with refreshments in keeping with the season.

Mrs. Anderson was assisted during the successful afternoon by Mesdames R. Z. Ballard, Ludlow, E. U. Dickinson and Misses Fern Smith and Dorothy White.

The friends of Miss Marguerite who were invited to celebrate the day with her included Misses Mildred Koepsel, Barbara, Lucille and Bobby Goodrich, Doris Hill, Katherine Chandler, Elizabeth Roehm, Martha Leipsic, Eleanor Reid, Estelle Schlesinger, Marguerite Lentz, Bethel Dickinson, Lola Papp, Marie Osborne, Lucille Houston, Marguerite Whitted, Amy Thomas, Evelyn Ludlow, Cleora Fine and Mrs. Spencer Hill, Alvin Carter, David Hill, Dick Stewart, Pandey Parsons and Hampton Wager.

A DAINTY BLOUSE

NEW YORK.—With the widespread popularity of the mannish tailored suit, the separate blouse is attracting much of the attention of designers. The model sketched, with all its suggestiveness of tailored trimmings, still retains that soft daintiness so becoming to every feminine face. It is made of fine imported French voile.

to attend a picnic of the Orange County Veterans' Association at Huntington Beach, Friday, October 17, was read and many announced their intention of going. The "Daughters" will start from corner of Third and Bush, so those who do not have cars may take the stage.

The "Daughters" will have a "Hallowe'en" party Friday night, October 24, at the Central Auto Park. Every one is invited to attend. There are several committees to attend to the "seats," drinks, fortune telling, jazz music, fun and frolic. Probably a confetti battle will close the evening. No admittance will be charged but each one can spend as much as inclined. All boys and girls between the ages of 5 and 15 are invited.

Reception and Farewell
The First Presbyterian Aid Society will hold its regular monthly meeting tomorrow afternoon at 2:30, at the home of Mrs. M. S. Cloyes, 308 South Birch street.

The meeting is in the nature of a social afternoon, at which time the ladies will take advantage of the opportunity to welcome the return of Mrs. J. A. Stevenson, after a year and a half of absence and to wish their retiring president, Mrs. I. M. Sproull, success in her new home in Pittsburg, Calif., where the family will go soon.

A third important feature of the day will be the free-will offering for accessories to furnish the church kitchen.

Paper on Forestry
Robert Northcross entertained the members of the Monday Club last evening with a paper concerning forestry. Mr. Northcross is an authority on such subjects and his paper was greatly appreciated.

Location of Hunting Places Defined For Information of Nimrods

With hunters polishing up their guns in preparation for the opening of the duck season Thursday, interest is centering in where one might go to get bags of ducks and geese. ### TOBACCO HABIT DANGEROUS says Doctor Connor, formerly of Johns Hopkins hospital. Thousands of men suffering from fatal diseases would be in perfect health today were it not for the deadly drug of Nicotine. Stop the habit now before it's too late. It's a simple process to rid yourself of the tobacco habit in any form. Just go to any up-to-date drug store and get some Nicotol tablets; take them as directed and let the pernicious habit quickly vanish. Druggists refund the money if they fail to be sure to read large and interesting announcement by Doctor Connor soon to appear in this paper. It tells of the danger of nicotine poisoning and how to avoid it. In the meantime try Nicotol tablets; you will be surprised at the result.

"Dink" Templeton To Land Place on Stanford's Eleven

"DINK" TEMPLETON, son of Prof. and Mrs. Templeton, former residents of this city, is one of Stanford's star Rugby players and is showing great form in boating an American football.

According to present indications, he should land a berth in the back field on the strength of his phenomenal kicking ability. In the transition from the English game to the American, the principal difficulty that the former Rugby players encounter seems to be in the different manner of carrying the ball.

Instinctively, the former Rugby player will thrust the ball from him as he is tackled, because in the English game passing the ball back to another man is allowed. The fact that the ball is not held closely to the body by these players has resulted in several fumbles in preliminary scrimmages. This, however, is a fault that will easily be overcome as the season advances.

NEW CHAMPION IS SECOND IN FAMILY

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Seven years ago a slim, muscular school boy walked from an athletic field in Pasadena, Cal., with an ambition to become the nation's greatest athlete.

At the age of fifteen he had taken the colors of the Pasadena high school into an all-around championship meet and been crowned the victor.

Recently at Jersey City, this same lad, grown now to a six footer of super build, was crowned the nation's premier athlete in the national A. A. U. "all-around" championship meet.

He is Samuel Harrison Thomson, star Princeton athlete of Los Angeles, Cal., and late of the American Expeditionary Forces.

The new champion is 22 years of age. He comes of athletic stock. Six years ago at Princeton his brother, Rev. Fred C. Thomson became the national champion and set the record of 7411½ points which still stands.

In bringing the second championship title to the family, the younger Thomson accumulated 6133½ points after a battle with Larry Karimo, the noted Finn of Detroit.

Some First Places

The Californian won the running high jump at 5 feet 10½ inches; the 880-yard walk in 3:37 4-5; the 16-pound hammer throw with 115 feet 10¼ inches. He was second in the 100-yard dash, finishing one foot behind Dar Shea of the Pastime (N. Y.) A. C. in 11 1-5 seconds; second in the 16-pound shotput with 28 feet 5 inches; second in the pole vault with 9 feet 5 inches; second in the 120-yard hurdle behind Karimo, who went the distance in 16 3-5 seconds; second in the 56-pound weight event with 18 feet 7¼ inches; fourth in the running broad jump with 18 feet 11½ inches, and fourth in the one-mile run at 5:31 2-5.

The new champion is no Thorpe in ability or physique but he does approach close to the type of the ideal American athlete. He has size, grace and ease of movement almost to the point of laziness. In the high jump he would rise from a squatted position on the ground, walk leisurely to the bar and clear it with no exertion. The same confidence and ease of action was apparent in all his efforts.

Triumph to Finn

In commenting upon the championship meet it is but fair to pay tribute to the Finn representative of the Detroit Young Men's order, Larry Karimo, who finished second in the meet.

Without attempting to detract any from the credit due to Thomson's victory it is said in justice to the Finn that the Detroit man beat himself out of the championship that his all-around form proved he deserved.

Karimo lost the championship by being disqualified in the 880-yard walk. His indulgence in running, which caused his disqualification and the loss of at least 700 points must have been due to a case of "rattled nerves," as there was no reason for his violation of the rules. He was in fourth place comfortably and instead of playing shrewdly for sure points he had one of those so-called "balloon ascensions" and got out of his gear.

However cool nerves and steadiness may be an attribute of a champion and in this respect Thomson proved himself far the superior and it enabled him to win what was a very closely matched contest.

Give the world the once over

LISTEN, fellows, to some straight talk. Many a man when he gets to be 40, misses something. He may have lots of money and a fine family, but—

He never "got out and saw things". After he gets settled down, it's too late.

Every man wants to see the world. No man likes to stand still all his life. The best time to TRAVEL is when you're young and lively—right NOW!

Right NOW your Uncle Sam is calling, "Shove off!" He wants men for his Navy. He's inviting you! It's the biggest chance you will ever get to give the world the once over!

The Navy goes all over the world—sails the Seven Seas—squints at the six continents—that's its business. You stand to see more odd sights, wonderful scenery and strange people than you ever dreamed of.

You'll work hard while you work. You'll play hard while you play. You'll earn and learn. You'll get, in addition to "shore-leave", a 30-day straight vacation—which is more than the average bank president can count on.

You can join for two years. When you get through you'll be physically and mentally "tuned up" for the rest of your life. You'll be ready through and through for SUCCESS.

There's a Recruiting Station right near you. If you don't know where it is, your Postmaster will be glad to tell you.

A Flaw in the Story

A critic was discussing John Singer Sargent, the artist, with Chauncey Depew, and remarked:

"They say he painted a cobweb on a ceiling once, and it was so natural that the maid wore herself out trying to brush it off."

"What you say about the naturalness of the cobweb may be perfectly true," retorted Depew, "but there never was any such maid, I'm sure."

"What shall we do to remedy the high cost of living?"

"I'll see if I can get a job to assist in investigating it. Maybe the salary will be enough to help tide us over."

Canada Considers Scheme to Benefit People By Racing

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—Canada is considering a plan to make horse racing, which is conducted on a high plane there, work to the benefit of the general public. The plan advanced is to limit the returns of promoters to a fair percentage of profit on their investment and devote the remainder of the receipts of the meetings to a good roads fund.

Among the owners favoring the plan is Commander J. K. L. Ross, owner of Sir Barton and Billy Kelly and one of the most prominent figures in Canadian and United States racing circles.

Discussing the project here recently, Commander Ross not only expressed his approval of it but went farther by recommending a plan to make the public share even greater benefits from the sport. He wants a part of the surplus devoted toward the breeding of better horses.

"The government could use part of the money for the provision of stallions so the farmers could receive direct benefit by the opportunity to breed finer animals. The need of the farmer for better horses was never greater," he said.

GEORGIA HAS LARGE DISAPPEARING LAKE

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 14.—In Georgia near Vladosta, there is a lake which disappears every three or four years and then comes back again, no matter what the weather is like.

The lake is three miles long and three-quarters of a mile wide, with an average depth of 12 feet of water. There are natural subterranean passages beneath it, through which the water passes off.

It takes two or three weeks to disappear, when a mammoth basin is left in its place, which furnishes a beautiful sandy beach. After a month or so the water begins to return, and then in a couple of weeks it is the same magnificent stretch of water as it was before.

Suit blouses are more than ever in demand. The one to the left is shown in various dark colored Georgette crepes to match suit fabrics. The broad, soft crowned sailor hat is relieved with a smart little ribbon bow. The waist shown on the right also comes in a variety of suit shades, and is designed for more dressy wear. IF THIN AND NERVOUS, TRY PHOSPHATE

A French scientist has discovered an organic phosphate which should be a very effective remedy for weak nerves, sleeplessness, thinness and lack of strength, energy and vigor. Its substance is described by specialists as identical in composition with certain vital elements naturally found in brain and nerve cells and one which when taken into the human system is quickly converted into healthy living tissue. This phosphate is already widely known among druggists in this country as Bitro-Phosphate and some physicians claim that through its use strength, energy, vigor and nerve force are frequently increased in two weeks' time. Dr. Frederick Kolbe, Editor of New York Physicians' "Who's Who," says it should be prescribed by every doctor and used in every hospital in the United States. As there are a great variety of so-called phosphates, those who wish to test this substance should be sure to get the genuine Bitro-Phosphate.

TEARS FAIL TO STAY PUT SAYS MAN IN SUIT

Saline Fluid Refuses to Keep to Normal Ducts, Plaintiff Asserts

Testimony that as the result of injuries received in an automobile accident tears refuse to remain in their normal channels in one of his eyes and that the tears instead ran down his face was given today by C. Albert Zimmerman, of Anaheim, whose action for $5000 damages against J. S. Ellis, also of Anaheim, was being tried today before Superior Judge Williams.

The testimony regarding the strange behavior of the limpid saline fluid secreted by the lacrimal gland of one of Zimmerman's eyes was given by the plaintiff in response to questions put by his attorney, Leonard Evans, of Anaheim.

The accident which, it is alleged resulted in injuries to Zimmerman occurred on December 3, 1918, at the intersection of what is known as the county road and the road leading to Garden Grove.

It is alleged that Ellis ran into Zimmerman, who was riding a bicycle. Zimmerman testified that he was thrown violently against the running board of Ellis' car and that his eye came into swift and painful contact with one of the supports of the top of the machine.

Zimmerman told the court that as a result of the accident he was paralyzed for several moments. Blood covered his eyes, he said, and he was unable to see for several minutes.

Ellis, according to testimony given by Zimmerman, has paid the latter $5 for the repair of his bicycle; $6 for the repair of his eye-glasses and $50 for medical fees.

Attorney Clyde Bishop appeared as counsel for the defendant.

One of the witnesses called was Kenneth Wallace, of Anaheim. He testified that he saw the accident.

HEALTHY BABES IS OBJECT OF NEW COURSE

U. C. Extension Division Offers Instruction to the Mothers of State

Healthier infants for California homes is said to be the slogan which may well introduce the latest course for mothers now offered by the correspondence department of the University of California Extension Division. The course, comprising a series of ten lessons on the feeding of infants and children, has been prepared by Dr. Agnes Fay Morgan and Miss Anna W. Williams of the department of home economics of the University of California, Berkeley.

The course deals with a diet of the expectant and nursing mother and the diet of the child from birth to the age of 12 years. Among the topics treated are the building and regulating use of food, the classification of food, the food needs of the infant, digestive disorders, weaning, the food needs of the child during the period of most rapid growth, and of feeding the school child. The series of instructions is given by the University, a charge of $3.50 being made, a fee less than usually charged for extension courses.

Another important course for parents and those having the care of children, "The Mental and Moral Training of Children," deals with the development of the child from birth to its twelfth year. The course was prepared by Professor Warner Brown, writing on the mental training of the child; Professor C. E. Rugh, on the moral training; Jay B. Nash, assistant state superintendent of physical development of children, and Miss Alice Grover Whitbeck, librarian of Contra Costa county, who writes on children's reading.

Suggestions and instructions are offered in helping mothers to develop their children's self control and in teaching their children to overcome the passions of anger, fear, and the like.

Little Maiden, Aged 2 Years, Sets Out to View World

WANDERLUST will be one of the later life propensities of little Miss Helen Virgin, aged two years, judging from the fact that despite her very tender years she set out today to see the world.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Virgin, of 507 Minter street, missed her this morning. They searched frantically in the neighborhood, but were unable to locate the tiny tot.

A neighbor rushed to the sheriff's office and reported the fact that Helen was missing. As the neighbor was on his way back to his home he was surprised and delighted to see the little wanderer calmly walking along within a block of the courthouse.

In a very brief time the little girl was restored to her waiting parents.

DEPUTIES TO WATCH FOR ROAD SHOOTERS

That deputies from the sheriff's office will be on the lookout at the gun clubs west of Santa Ana Thursday morning when the duck season opens to apprehend violators of the new state law which prohibits shooting from the public highways, was learned today. In past years comparatively few Santa Ana nimrods made a practice of "road shooting" as they generally confined their hunting activities to the south of the city, where there are numerous open spaces where ducks may be killed. At Anaheim, it is understood that a pool has been raised among duck hunters to fight legal action that may be taken against any of their number who may be arrested for shooting ducks from roads intersecting gun clubs in the country to the west of the Mother Colony.

CONFISCATES 100 LOAVES OF BREAD

One hundred loaves of bread, confiscated today by County Sealer Geo. McPhee, were apportioned to the Detention Home and the Day Nursery. The bread was taken from one of the delivery automobiles operated by the Bradford Baking Company of Los Angeles. According to McPhee, the loaves did not come up to the weight required by law. The Bradford Baking Company recently paid a fine of $25 in the justice court for offering short weight bread for sale in this county.

BE PREPARED FOR INFLUENZA

CUT THIS OUT Many medical men say we will probably have another epidemic this fall. Let us all hope and pray we will not. But at the same time let us be well prepared.

The flu as it is called, usually starts with a cold and tightness in the chest. If you even suspect there is a chance that you may be getting influenza take a good dose of laxative tea, such as Dr. Carter's K & B Tea or Cedery King and send for your physician. While you are waiting for the doctor rub Begy's Mustard on throat and chest.

Rub it on freely and never mind if it does feel good and hot, it cannot blister even the tenderest skin. But don't stop at throat and chest; get some one to rub this enemy of inflammation over your entire back and especially between the shoulder blades. This is one of the most sensible precautions which you can take against pneumonia, which often quickly follows the flu and is just what the doctor tries hard to sidetrack.

You can get Begy's Mustard for 20 and 40 cents in yellow boxes all ready for use at any drug store. Remember it is made of real yellow mustard. Use it for sore throat, coughs, chest colds, pleurisy, bronchitis, lumbago and all aches and pains.—Adv.

HIST! MYSTERY HUNDRED MAKE POETESS HAILS FIRE CHIEF RESERVATIONS FOR LUNCHEON

View of Department's New Red Auto Moves Fair One to Ecstasies

Fire Chief John Luxembourgier today was perturbed—agreeably perturbed—by the receipt, through the mail, of a rhyme congratulating him on the acquisition of his new runabout, recently purchased for his use by the city council.

The verses were done by an anonymous writer. Further, the writer is a woman, or so it would appear, judging from the handwriting, which is in an unmistakably feminine hand.

It is evident that the brilliant red hue of the new runabout was what moved the fair poetess to express herself in "numbers." Here are the verses:

CHIEF LUXEMBOURGIER

Congratulations, noble Chief,

Thy fame hath gone afar:

Much printer's ink hath made thee great,

With thy vermilion car.

No longer will the public eye

Behold thy faithful bike,

Conveying thee, most noble Chief

Along the dizzy pike.

No longer wilt thou feel the need

Of lotions, grease or salves,

To lubricate thy stiffened joints,

And weary, aching calves.

No longer will the children laugh,

When cries of "fire" are heard,

"Hey look there goes the Chief, gee whiz,

Now ain't he sure a bird."

'Tis well the city council hath,

At last perceived thy need,

And given thee a motor car,

Of nifty style and speed.

All done in red with trimmings black,

What more couldst thou desire?

Naught, but a little gas to burn,

While rushing to a fire.

CHILDREN CAN HELP

T. R. MEMORIAL FUND

The school children of Southern California will be given an opportunity to contribute to the fund for a memorial to the late Theodore Roosevelt, for which a national campaign is now in progress, it was announced today by Miss Mary E. Smith, campaign manager for Southern California, with headquarters at 311 R. W. Hellman building.

Contributions in any amount from the children will be accepted and should be turned over to the county chairmen for forwarding to the headquarters in Los Angeles. Motley Flint, assistant national chairman, will have charge of the funds collected in the Southland. A committee has been appointed to take charge of the drive in the schools in Los Angeles.

The campaign for donations is now in full progress and will continue until October 27, the anniversary of the birth of the great American. Governor Stephens has issued a proclamation designating October 27 "Americanization Day" and urging the full cooperation of the public in the campaign for the memorial fund.

The county chairmen are as follows: San Diego, Col. Ed. Fletcher of San Diego City; Imperial, Judge Phil D. Swing, El Centro; San Bernardino, R. L. Riley, Colton; Ventura, Charles Blackstock, Oxnard; Orange, Joe Burke, Santa Ana, and Riverside, E. P. Clark of the Riverside Press. The county chairmen for Santa Barbara and Los Angeles have not been selected. Marshall Stimson is chairman of the executive committee for Southern California.

Mrs. A. H. Hall, Caseville, Mich., says, "I wish to thank you for your grand good medicine, Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. We are never without it in the house, and I am sure it saved our baby's life this summer."

Record Attendance Is Expected at Mid-week Affair Tomorrow

One hundred reservations for the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at James' tomorrow had been made up to this morning. There will be accommodations for about 150 all told, and parties not having made reservations, and wishing to attend the luncheon, may do so if they want to take a chance on getting a plate.

Secretary Metzgar anticipated a number of more reservations being made this afternoon.

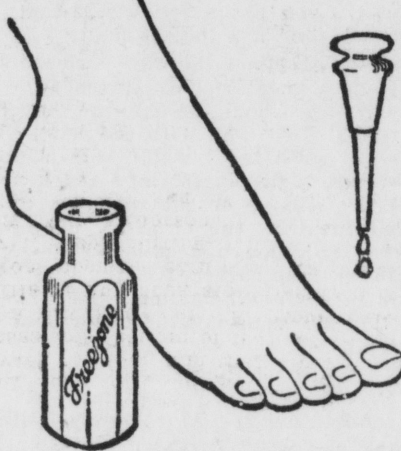

The popularity of the two men who are to address the luncheon is exciting keen interest in the affair tomorrow and it is expected that the record crowd for these mid-week affairs will be in attendance. Rev. J. A. Stephenson and Capt. N. M. Holderman are the speakers.

SUGGEST BUILDING FUND AS HOUSING SITUATION RELIEF

ENTIRE WALNUT CROP SOLD BY ASSOCIATION IN 2 DAYS

Growers Will Receive Their Pay Early In the Season, This Year

The California Walnut Growers' Association has received orders for more walnuts than it can deliver. In less than two days after the new walnut prices were named, eastern buyers had sent wires into the association's office in Los Angeles for more walnuts than the association had estimated that it could deliver this year. The association expects to handle not less than 46,000,000 pounds of walnuts this year.

The association managers have had to decline orders for ninety-three carloads of walnuts, aggregating 40,000 bags weighing 100 pounds each.

There is the possibility that the estimates of the size of the crop are under what the tonnage will turn out to be. If that should be true this year, the association has on hand orders to cover all possible tonnage over the estimated output.

The report of the situation as given by the association office is good news to Orange county walnut growers, for it means that association members are going to get their money early in the season. It is believed now that this year the association will wind up the season's business earlier than ever before.

C. Thorpe, general manager of the association, says the present favorable condition of business is due largely to the tremendous demand for California walnuts. He expressed the belief that the heavy demand for association products this year is largely a result of the high standard which has been set in past years.

The California walnut crop, worth from $12,000,000 to $15,000,000, is being snapped up, despite heavier importations from Europe than have arrived since 1915. Mr. Thorpe accounts for this by the statement that California walnuts are a much better buy at prevailing prices than imported walnuts.

The harvest of this year's crop is proceeding with remarkable speed. Copious showers during the last few days of September loosened the walnuts and caused them to begin falling rapidly. Ranchers appear to be able to get plenty of help, and the walnuts are rolling into twenty-six association packing houses so rapidly as to almost swamp them. It is the belief of Thorpe that approximately 85 per cent of the crop can be included in the first pool, which closes November 15.

Lima Bean Market In Good Condition Report of Manager

THE lima bean market is in excellent condition, and the directors of the California Lima Bean Growers' Association made no mistake in fixing the price of lima beans at 14.5 cents for this year.

This, in brief, is the gist of conditions as found by the directors of the association at their meeting at Oxnard yesterday.

Manager Churchill reported that the association had sold all of the beans set apart for the opening sales period. He said that brokers in the East were optimistic, and that the condition of the market was such that he did not feel that there was any probability but that the association would sell its entire crop at the opening price.

Both he and the directors were much pleased with the general situation.

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION IS OCT. 30-31

The Orange County Sunday School Association will hold its next annual convention at the church of the Evangelical Association, Anaheim, October 30 and 31. The popular method of using the whole forenoon for conferences on the work of the different departments will be followed. Capable leaders will be in charge of these conferences. The plan this year is to have the denominational field workers in Southern California take part in this convention, and they are responding with fine spirit.

The business session each afternoon will deal with live questions pertaining to the county association work. A field day some time next year for all the schools in the county, instead of each denomination picnicking by itself, the plan of holding a conference one day each month in some permanent place, with experts present to help with the problems, whether the whole county should adopt one standard for promotion, etc.—these things will be discussed.

There will be two addresses each afternoon, one of which will be delivered by the new state secretary.

Special features will be presented in the evening, visualizing the work of the Bible school and the church. Splendid music will enliven the sessions.

NEAR DEATH IN BACKRUSH FROM MAUNA LOA'S TIDAL WAVE

Brother of Santa Ana, and Family Escape Drowning In Rushing Waters

That Attorney C. S. Carlsmith of Hilo, Hawaii, a brother of Mrs. W. V. Whitson of 1112 French street, and his wife and two sons had narrow escapes from death in a tidal wave that accompanied the eruption of the volcano Mauna Loa is shown in the graphic description of his experiences as given in a letter just received by Mrs. Whitson from her brother.

The Carlsmith family was caught in the backrush of waters following a tidal wave. The disturbance of the sea was attributed either to the pouring of lava into the sea or the opening up of a great crevice in the bottom of the sea.

Attorney Carlsmith and his wife and two sons, Merrill and Wendell, had driven in an automobile to Hooopuloa, expecting to go canoeing, when they were caught in the rush of waters and nearly perished.

The attorney's letter to his sister contains the following:

"My first intimation that a tidal wave was impending was the recession of the sea. Suddenly it seemed to slope backward from the shore. In a moment it was visibly running down hill. The ragged rocks of the coast line were exposed and stranded fish were left flopping on the shore.

"The others about me did not seem to realize what was coming. My own recollections are rather confused, but I remember that I knew we were to have a tidal wave.

"Then the waters came rushing back. I should say they were from 12 to 14 feet higher than high water mark.

"My son Merrill was swept off his feet and driven through the door of the wharf shed. As he was tossed about inside the shed he made several ineffectual attempts to grasp the rafters but finally caught a hold and curled himself over a beam in safety.

Swept Off Feet

"This I learned later. In the meantime I had been swept off my feet. Merrill's elder brother Wendell was in the car. As the wave carried me away, I could see that Wendell was trying to save the car but it was already afloat and I signalled to him—probably I shouted, too, but he couldn't have heard in the road of the

KING ALBERT

King Albert Wears a Wool Shirt and Suspenders While Aboard Ship

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 14.—Leopold, the crown prince of Belgium, is pretty much like any American youth of his age, and he is not a bit fussy about his appearance. Of course, he dresses up when he goes out, but when his hair gets tossed up he doesn't fret about it. In fact, he doesn't pay any attention to little things like that. Likewise, he doesn't smoke, it was learned here when he was offered a cigarette.

The crown prince keeps pretty well in the background when he is going about with the king and queen, but the Santa Barbara girls watch for him, particularly since Sunday, when they nearly "mobbed" him as he came from church. They surrounded his auto and kept him shaking their hands until he was whisked away from them. When the prince goes about he is always accompanied by a Belgian army officer and an American secret service man.

King Albert likes comfort, it has been discovered, and enjoys taking off his coat when engaged in any pastime where he wants more freedom. While en route to America he was playing ship games with other passengers and removed his coat. He was found to be wearing a dark wool shirt and regular old-fashioned suspenders.

Realty Board at Luncheon To Launch Plans to Ease City's Housing Situation

RATIFICATION of the constitution and By-Laws of the Santa Ana Realty Board, which is now in the process of organization and one of whose principal objects will be to bring about a solution of the housing situation in Santa Ana, is expected Thursday noon when real estate operators of Santa Ana and surrounding communities will gather in the Gold Room at James' for luncheon.

A general invitation to all bona fide real estate men and women of Santa Ana and vicinity, including Garden Grove, Orange, Tustin and Newport, is being extended by the board's publicity committee, of which Freeman H. Bloodgood of this city is chairman.

"We expect an attendance of at least fifty real estate operators at the luncheon," said Bloodgood today. "There will be a general discussion of the constitution and by-laws, which are being drawn up by a committee composed of Frank Harris, N. J. Warner and L. J. Carden. Every bona fide real estate operator in this section—that is, every one who operates a real estate office and is legitimately in business—is invited to attend."

L. L. Shaw, president of the temporary organization, will preside at Thursday's luncheon.

Those on the publicity committee with Bloodgood are J. P. Smith and John L. Tummond. This committee also is in charge of preparations for the luncheon.

"One of the principal objects of the Santa Ana Realty Board will be to launch plans which will result in an increase in building in Santa Ana and surrounding territory," said Bloodgood. "The housing situation is becoming more and more critical. Real estate men are receiving many letters from people all over the country announcing their intention of coming to Orange county to locate. There are simply not enough houses available at the present time and the need of alleviating this condition is most urgent. The influx of visitors to Santa Ana and near-by communities this winter will be something phenomenal."

WOULD HAVE PUBLIC RIDE FREE ON CARS

BOSTON, Oct. 14.—Ralph S. Bauer, for many years an advocate of public ownership of street railway systems and free rides for the public, has suggested to the special state commission on street railways that the Boston Elevated Railway Company's system should be run on this plan.

In advocating purchase by the public of Boston's street railway system, Bauer asserted that the street car rider is a "money asset to the community in which he rides." He claimed that the street cars are used by those who give something of permanent value to the city, and that instead of paying for the privilege of using the street railway system, they should be given the opportunity of doing so without paying any fare.

Bauer says that high street car fares are discouraging business expansion, and pointed out that the old custom of charging tolls on the country's highways had the same effect while that system was in operation.

CITY IS LOSING POPULATION BY SHORTAGE OF RESIDENCES

Concerted effort Should Be Made In the Interest of Future

"It is easier to find an oil well on Fourth street than it is to find a vacant house in Santa Ana," today declared a local resident who is looking for a house to rent.

The housing situation is becoming more acute with the passing of each day. Building operations are moving at top notch speed, but still not fast enough to keep up with the demand for homes.

Building operations in the country district are lively, and with that which is in progress within the city limits, building men are kept moving all the time.

The housing situation in Santa Ana is such as to cause this city the loss of many prospective residents, and there has been some agitation on a proposition that might in a measure assist in providing more houses. Fullerton and Orange have organized funds for the erection of residences, and it is being suggested that it is time Santa Ana is taking similar steps.

The Chamber of Commerce or Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association, or both, have been discussed as organizations that should attempt the formation of a company for the purpose of carrying on a residence building campaign. It is a strange condition, but a fact, nevertheless, that the majority of newcomers will readily buy a house already built, but will not buy a lot and erect a house themselves.

Would Benefit Financially

This fact has been thoroughly demonstrated in a number of instances in the city recently. With business men forming a company and contributing money to a fund, it is believed that they would benefit financially, not only by reason of an increased population but by a small margin of profit on their investment.

Whether such a company should be organized for building cottages for rent, or whether the houses should be built strictly for sale, are questions that are open to discussion.

The consensus of opinion is that by building and selling at actual cost or plus a profit of $100 on a cottage, such a fund could be kept revolving, with it possible to have a number of residences under construction at the same time. A small profit on each residence would furnish money for the overhead expenses.

One hundred men "chipping in" $1000 each would furnish a working fund of $100,000, with the city benefiting immensely by its operation and the members getting their money back when the situation is eased to the point where operations could be suspended.

From the standpoint of a renting proposition, there is no doubt but what a fair interest return could be made by such a fund.

rushing waters—to jump. "He did, but by that time I was overboard myself. The next I saw of him, he was on the end of the wharf, trying to pass me a plank. I myself had been carried out to sea perhaps 100 yards and was being spun about in what seemed to be a whirlpool. The plank did not reach me, but in my spinning I managed to grasp a rock and hauled myself ashore, more or less bruised and cut by the mauling I got from the rocks and floating wreckage. "The suction of the first incoming wave, when it ran out again, pulled me to sea and I was carried back on the return impulse. There was an interval between the two of perhaps 60 or 100 seconds. The sea boiled furiously and, though I am a good swimmer, I was repeatedly ducked and doused and swallowed a lungful of water.

"When I got back to terra firma, I had the sickening sensation of seeing my wife being carried out to sea, far beyond any distance to which I had traveled. She kept her head admirably. Instead of struggling toward shore, she caught a piece of wreckage and let herself go with the tide. It was the only thing to do. The water was terribly agitated. She would have exhausted her strength fighting it and, even if she had won to the beach, she certainly would have been horribly lacerated and pounded on the jagged rocks and might have been beaten to death by the surf.

"Instead of wasting her vitality, she let herself float. Most of the canoes on the shore had been broken to pieces, but one of them—either before the wave came in—was riding safely. Two Hawaiians swam out from shore, clambered in and paddled to where Mrs. Carlsmith was floating, a quarter of a mile out. They brought her back little the worse, except for shock, from her experience.

"A man who has been through such an experience cannot presume to speak with precision, but I should say there were at least ten separate waves. The first was the strongest. Two others of nearly equal volume followed it, then there was a period of agitated intermission and the other surges swept inward, one after another."

GARDEN GROVE BRIEFS

GARDEN GROVE, Oct. 14.—The congregation of the Methodist church gave Rev. and Mrs. O. W. Reinius a farewell reception Thursday evening on the eve of their departure for their new field of work at Brawley. A delightful musical program was rendered. The party comprises nineteen in all. With the exception of one brother, Frank Wade, and family, who will spend the winter, they expect to locate here. Mr. and Mrs. Bissett are former Garden Grove residents.

LINK JAILED MAN WITH ROBBERY AT SAN JUAN

Glenn Brophy, Serving Ninety Days In North, Accused By Finger Prints

Finger print identification has led to the information that Glenn W. Brophy, now serving a ninety-day term in Humboldt county following his conviction on a charge of petty larceny, may be the man whom local officers have been seeking to place in custody on a charge of having been the accomplice of Preston C. Lamb, who was sentenced here on September 23 to San Quentin, after he had pleaded guilty to a charge of robbing an oil station at San Juan Capistrano.

Officers here, today were prepared to ask for the return of Brophy to this city to face the San Juan robbery charge.

The accomplice of Preston C. Lamb escaped shortly after the robbery was committed. Both men had been placed under arrest after their automobile was wrecked a short distance north of Oceanside. City Marshal DeBord at Oceanside had stepped to a telephone when Lamb's accomplice jumped through a window and fled.

Lamb gave local officers a purported description of his accomplice. Comparisons of this description with that obtained from the city marshal at Oceanside, revealed certain discrepancies, with the result that the local authorities communicated with the War Department. It was thought possible that Lamb's companion might have been in the United States army, though Lamb told the officers that his pal had been in the Canadian forces.

The information received from the War Department was to the effect that a man named Glenn W. Brophy had enlisted in May of this year and had been discharged about a month later on account of physical disability.

Copies of Brophy's finger prints were sent to the State Bureau of Identification at Sacramento. Shortly copies of these prints were in the hands of the sheriff of Humboldt county. Today Sheriff C. E. Jackson here has in his possession a telegram from the Humboldt county authorities stating that Brophy is in jail there, serving a ninety-day term for petty larceny.

The robbery of the oil station occurred on September 2. Lamb and his companion drove to the place in a Hudson automobile and asked R. A. Gibbons, in charge of the station, to pour some oil into the crank case. When Gibbons straightened up he was startled to see a revolver pointed at him. It was Lamb's companion who wielded the gun, according to Lamb's story. Lamb went to the cash drawer and rifled it of $40.

Lamb was sentenced by Superior Judge Williams. He told the court at the time that for nineteen months he had been an officer in the aviation branch of the army and had been stationed at Ellington Field, Texas.

NEED SINGLE RECTORY FOR SMALL RECTORY

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—The Episcopal church is in quest of a bachelor rector to occupy the smallest rectory in America. He must be a bachelor, for the smallest rectory is far too small for a rector with a wife, and quite impossible for a rector with a wife and children.

The smallest rectory is at St. Mark's Episcopal church in Tonopah, Nev. The need of a bachelor to fill it has been brought to the attention of the heads of the church's nationwide campaign in New York by the Right Rev. George Coolidge Hunting, D. D., missionary bishop of the state. The rector has stood vacant, Bishop Hunting explains, because none but a single man could get into it, "and there do not seem to be any more single men in the ministry."

But Bishop Hunting has found a way out of the difficulty. In his statement of the projects for Nevada to be embraced in the campaign, he recommends a new rectory for St. Mark's. "There is not a bed to be had in the town," he reports, "to say nothing of a house."

C. G. Rowan, Supervisor, Expects to Visit This County Soon

According to a letter received from C. G. Rowan of San Diego, supervisor of the census for the eleventh congressional district, more applications for appointment as census takers have been received by him from Orange county than from any other county in the district. He states in his letter that he is satisfied that the reason for the larger response given his announcement to the effect that those wishing to become enumerators should apply to him lies in the publicity given the matter by the Register.

Rowan states that California senators and congressmen are endeavoring to get an allowance of four cents per name for the taking of the census, but that so far the compensation is variable with two cents as the minimum and four cents as the maximum. Rowan is to visit in Santa Ana soon and will discuss the taking of the census here with local people who are interested.

MOVIE ACTOR IN
BOWERS CRASH
TO BE SUED

One and Possibly 2 Actions To Be Instituted Against Chesebro

That George Chesebro, motion picture actor of Los Angeles, who pleaded guilty in the justice court on Thursday to a charge of recklessly driving an automobile and who paid a $100 fine, is to be made defendant in one, and possibly two, civil actions for damages in connection with the recent automobile accident near the county hospital in which Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bowers, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bowers and Mrs. Belle Buck, sister of Mrs. Bowers, Sr., were injured, was learned today.

Elmer Bowers, who swore to the complaint against Chesebro in the justice court, stated unqualifiedly that suit against the motion picture man would be instituted. The Bowers automobile was insured with the Automobile Club of Orange County and the Bowers claim against Chesebro will probably be transferred to the club in an action which it is said will be begun to recover the costs of repairing the Bowers machine.

Stanley M. Reinhaus, attorney for the automobile club, today stated that he was waiting for instructions in regard to the matter. It is believed that possibly efforts are being made to reach an adjustment with Chesebro without recourse to litigation.

In Hands of Lawyer

Asked for information regarding the action that will be instituted against Chesebro for damages for personal injuries to the Bowers family, Elmer Bowers said that the matter was in the hands of his attorney, H. C. Head.

Attorney Head, home today, following a business trip to San Francisco, stated that before he went away he had been requested by his clients to take steps for civil action against Chesebro. His absence had precluded preliminary preparations in the matter, he said. No decision had been reached as to the amount of damages that will be asked, Attorney Head stated.

When the complaint against Chesebro in the civil action is drawn up, the actor will be charged with careless and reckless driving, according to Attorney Head.

At the time of the accident, it was reported, the Bowers car was being driven north on the state highway leading to Anaheim. Near Katella sub-station a car approached from the north and the machines were about to pass.

Car Makes Long Skid

Chesebro, it is alleged, was going south at a rapid rate of speed in rear of the approaching car, and apparently did not see the Bowers machine approaching or else thought to pass between the two cars. Measurements taken after the crash were said to indicate that Chesebro saw the danger of an accident and threw on his brakes, the wheels of his car skidding 285 feet before he struck the Bowers machine.

The impact turned the Bowers car upside down at the side of the road, one wheel being ripped off, and the front of the roadster was smashed. The occupants of the Bowers car were pinned underneath the machine.

A. C. Bowers sustained such severe contusions of the third and fourth fingers of his right hand that it was found necessary to amputate both fingers at the second joint. He is still carrying his fingers in bandages. Elmer Bowers was the least injured of the party.

SAILOR FINDING SUCCESS WITH CHICKENS

Former Locomotive Fireman Now Has Farm and Market Garden

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Feeding locomotives isn't a good occupation for a man with a case of arrested tuberculosis. Your lungs begin to resent the coal dust and the strain of heavy lifting, and the first thing you know you are laid up for a long time.

The doctor convinced one of our disabled sailors that this was true. Before he went into the navy he was a locomotive feeder, and of course when he left the navy that is what he expected to do. With a nice little wife he had married in Hawaii, and a baby one year old to look after, he couldn't sit down and read the new books or whistle sticks for fun.

While he was still in the navy hospital he thought about it pretty constantly. He thought about it all the time that he was helping around the chicken yard of the hospital, or doing a little gardening for curative purposes. He especially liked the chicken yard, and had a way of taking the problem around with him while he fed the tiny things. One day when he was talking to the officer from the Federal Board for Vocational Education he broke off right in the middle of his story to tell about those chickens, and the Federal board agent saw his cue. He asked the officers how this man did with the chickens, and they said, "fine. His first hatch was great."

Well, the agent asked the sailor that very day if he wouldn't like to go in for chicken farming, and forget locomotives for a while. He looked as though he had been given a reprieve from "shot at sunset," and was enthusiastic from the very first.

He has a chicken farm of his own now, and a market garden too, all on the basis of scientific knowledge which he learned from the school to which the government sent him for training. He said the other day, "I didn't think that the world could have so wonderful a place in it. I feel success coming."

FOUR CENT BEAN TARIFF URGED BY GROWERS

Attorney Says Discrimination Against Americans In Favor of Japs

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—Renewing charges of discrimination against American bean growers in 1918, Aaron Sapiro of San Francisco, counsel for the California Bean Growers' Association, told the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday that A. B. Kuttner, head of the company through which the government purchased Oriental beans, "had received special favors" while H. P. Kimball was head of the Grain Corporation, in charge of the purchases. He said Kuttner had loaned Kimball $40,000, adding:

"We are not saying that it had any extraordinary significance."

About one-half of the 1,250,000 bags of foreign beans bought by the government were purchased through Kuttner's company, the Western Import Company, Sapiro said, adding that Kuttner received orders so far ahead he could buy on an advantageous market.

E. A. Lord, representing the Michigan Bean Growers, said Kimball had been removed by Herbert Hoover, then Food Administrator, when the matter was called to his attention, and that a record of the investigation of bean purchases had been turned over to the Justice Department.

Mr. Sapiro urged a tariff of 4 cents a pound on Oriental beans, asserting this amount was necessary to place the American product on the same market level in this country.

"Without the tariff, the American bean industry will disappear," said he. Michigan and New York bean growers also urged the 4-cent-a-pound tariff as necessary to prevent the extermination of the American bean industry.

Nathan Simpson, president of a Michigan farmers' organization, and S. L. Stridings, president of the New York State Federation of Farm Bureau Association, asserted American growers lost heavily on the crops of the last three years.

"An embargo during the war prevented New York growers from selling the kidney bean in its normal market—the West Indies," declared Mr. Stridings. "We lost that trade and Japan took it, has it now and probably will keep it."

Mr. Sapiro, concluding the hearings, said that "Oriental beans now in storage in this country are dumped on the American bean market whenever it shows a rising tendency, causing the price to go down. Oriental bean prices, he said, have dropped from $4.28 a bushel to $2.75 this year.

SEAL BEACH PLANS HALLOWE'EN DANCE

SEAL BEACH, Oct. 14.—Both far and near the Seal Beach Chamber of Commerce is favorably known for the magnificence of the dances it gives. The annual Snowball dance, given in the spring of the year, is a fixed institution in the minds of the people, and those who were present at the Halloween dance two years ago remember it with pleasure.

It was planned to make the Halloween dance an annual event, and considerable preparation was made for it last year, but the epidemic of influenza prevented the dance being given. The 1919 Halloween dance on Friday night, October 31, will be the biggest and best event of the kind ever given in Southern California. Lavish decorations in the Halloween motif are being placed in the mammoth dancing pavilion and these will be augmented with a battery of the famous Seal Beach scintillators. A special stage setting is being arranged by James Graham, president of the chamber of commerce, who is nationally known as a scenic artist.

Committees are working hard to make the event a success and they invite all Southern California to attend. It will be the jazziest kind of a jazz night—one that will be remembered for its pleasures as long as life lasts.

SOUTH IS TURNING AGAINST CALOMEL

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Responsible for Change for the Better.

Every druggist in town has noticed a great falling off in the sale of calomel. They all give the same reason. Dodson's Liver Tone is taking its place.

"Calomel is dangerous and people know it," Dodson's Liver Tone is personally guaranteed by every druggist who sells it. A large bottle doesn't cost very much, but if it fails to give ease relief in every case of liver sluggishness and constipation, just ask for your money back.

Dodson's Liver Tone is a pleasant-tasting, purely vegetable remedy, harmless to both children and adults. Take a spoonful at night and wake up feeling fine; no biliousness, sick headache, acid stomach or constipated bowels. It doesn't gripe or cause inconvenience all the next day like violent calomel. Take a dose of calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak, sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day.—Adv.

U. S. WILL SELL CITRUS LAND AT YUMA

Minimum Cost Is $225 Per Acre of Which $200 Is Irrigation Cost

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 14.—There is rejoicing in the town of Yuma, Ariz., and among those interested in citrus fruit growing all over the country, over the public notice issued by Secretary Lane designating December 10th as the date upon which lands under the first Mesa Unit of the Yuma Auxiliary Irrigation Project will be sold at public outcry.

This sale is unique in the history of federal irrigation in this country. Heretofore settlers on government irrigation projects have been given up to 20 years in which to return to the United States treasury the moneys expended for irrigation works to reclaim their lands. Owing to lack of money in the irrigation fund for undertaking new projects, Congress enacted legislation on January 25, 1917, authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to sell lands on the Yuma Mesa together with water right therefor and utilize the money so secured for building the necessary works.

There are upward of 45,000 acres of land embraced in the Yuma Mesa project, and it is the first unit, known as Unit B, that the Secretary of the Interior has ordered to be sold by public outcry in Sunset Park in the city of Yuma on December 10. Unit B contains about 6,400 acres of public land which has been platted and subdivided into about 500 farms ranging from five to 20 acres each.

The minimum price is $225 per acre, of which $200 is the estimated cost of the irrigation works. The appraised value of the dry land is $25 per acre. In addition the lands are subject to the payment of an amount per irrigable acre sufficient to return to the United States the total actual cost of the works of the first Mesa Unit in the event that the actual cost shall exceed the above estimated cost. The lands are also subject to the annual charge to cover cost of operating and maintaining the irrigation works.

Successful bidders will be required to immediately make water right application and to deposit ten per cent of the amount bid for land and water right. Upon notice from the Secretary of the Interior that a bid has been accepted, the bidder will be required to pay fifteen per cent additional within sixty days after date of notice. The remaining 75 per cent must be paid in three annual installments, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent per annum on deferred payments. No qualification is required of any purchaser except that he be a citizen of the United States. The purchaser is not required to live on or near the land purchased. No person will be permitted to buy more than 40 acres at this sale.

It is claimed for these Mesa lands that they are superior to any citrus fruit lands in the United States, being so devoid of frost that they are characterized as frostless. They are also well adapted by soil and climate to the growing of dates, figs, vegetables and other crops of a semi-tropical nature.

Further information concerning this sale will be furnished upon application, by the Project Manager, Yuma, Ariz., or the Statistician of the U. S. Reclamation Service, Washington, D. C.

HUNTINGTON BEACH

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 14.—Rev. Vernon McCombs of Los Angeles, will deliver a discourse at the Woman's Club house next Saturday at 11 a. m. It will be in connection with the Spanish work, in which he is interested, and there will be music by a Spanish class.

On Friday of this week the veterans of Orange county will hold their annual reunion and picnic on the beach here. Tables will be prepared in the pavilion. Tent for them and free coffee served by members of the Relief Corps.

S. E. Hearn and his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Hearn, left Monday for Murietta Hot Springs, where they expect to spend about thirty days.

Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Cole are spending a week or two with their daughter in Covina.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church together with the missionary societies will hold a joint all-day meeting on Wednesday in the church parlors. Ladies are requested to take a box lunch. The Foreign Missionary Society will elect officers for the ensuing year.

Some prowlers broke open the rear door to W. M. Adairs' grocery store and stole some bran and barley and other small articles Sunday night.

Monday being a holiday, the city was rather quiet and but little business transacted. C. J. Porter returned last week from his trip to South Dakota, where he went to look after his farm.

Effective Oct. 15, Huntington Beach stages will leave from the Central Auto Park, Third and Bush.
